FREDERICK DELIUS 150TH ANNIVERSARY 2012:

29th January is the 150th anniversary of the birth of Frederick Delius

Join in the celebrations!

Concerts, events and recordings are planned in honour of this remarkable and individual Bradford-born composer. A true cosmopolitan, influenced by the places he visited, particularly Florida, Scandinavia and France where he finally settled, Delius composed in all forms: operas, orchestral, choral, concertos, chamber works and songs.

If you are able to include some Delius in your festival programmes we can support you by:

- providing lists of compositions and arrangements, with forces required and publisher, in all categories, see: www.delius.org.uk/2012.htm
- suggesting musicians who regularly perform Delius, see: www.delius.org.uk/2012.htm
- promoting your concerts on our website, in Journals and Newsletters
- providing information on Delius, his life and music
- providing flyers promoting the Anniversary

Our website www.delius.org.uk will tell you more and Michael Green, ViceChairman@TheDeliusSociety.org.uk will be delighted to hear from you.
